There is a wealth of information in RONR concerning nominations and elections, but is there more we need to take into consideration when we plan for those important nominations and election meetings? What governing documents should be taken into account? This program will focus not only on what is required in RONR, but also on problems that may arise, what the impact is of other governing documents, and what possible solutions may be found. We will identify, illustrate, compare, and simulate the procedures found in RONR that protect individuals and the assembly during nomination and election meetings.

Florida Alpha Members and all guests are welcome to attend and learn in this 2 hour workshop.

NAP has approved this program for 2 CEUs.
