Re: Report of the Executive Director

NAP 40th BIENNIAL CONVENTION
By the conclusion of the 2015 convention, 448 people had registered for the event. The final bills are still being gathered, reviewed and prepared for payment. The final accounting will be reflected in the October financials. We anticipate a surplus of about $16,000 based on what we know right now; this is almost half of the surplus that was budgeted. The good news is that we did cover our minimum food and beverage or was at least close enough to not be penalized. What may be skewing the numbers is the printing of the materials for the Business Meeting, specifically the bylaws amendment booklet and the Special Committee’s report. It’s unclear where these expenses have historically been captured.

The wrap-up of the convention was the main focus of the monthly newsletter formerly known as Newsflash (we felt NAP Update was more appropriate to the contents), which emailed last week.

NAP 2016 TRAINING CONFERENCE
Planning is underway for the 2016 training conference to be held August 26-28 at the Omni Interlocken Resort in Broomfield, CO, slightly northwest of Denver. Gayla Storm is the convention coordinator and Dollie McPartlin is her assistant coordinator. They and President Mary Randolph will meet with the Omni staff in mid-November.

STRATEGIC OBJECTIVES
Public Awareness: We made positive strides into building awareness within the association executive market. This was the target audience for the public workshop “Mastering the Business Meeting: A Skill-Building Workshop for Association Executives” held prior to the convention. We promoted the workshop to about 3,000 executives in the D.C. area and ended up with 12 attendees, an average return for a cold audience, meaning one that we haven’t before tapped. The participants represented a wide variety of nonprofit association and provided extremely positive feedback in the post-evaluation. Kay Crews, PRP, and Kirk Overbey, PRP, conducted the day-long workshop using In Brief as their text (a copy of which was included in their registration fee); they both received excellent ratings.

The most encouraging part is that all the participants stated they would recommend the workshop to others and there was a request that it be done regionally. This very much fits into both the strategic plan and our educational direction as outlined by the Body of Knowledge. Kay and Kirk have stated they would be willing to continue with the workshop, so we’ll run the numbers and also run it by Dan Siebold, education cluster coordinator, and Dave Mazzer, chair of the Education Resources Committee to see what we can do.

This is a small step, but a very important one because it’s working with a prime audience and we had a strong response to our promotions, even though the turnout was small. It verifies there is opportunity here.

Report to the Board of Bookstore Review Committee

Following appointment as chair on September 30, the chairman scheduled the committee's initial meeting. The committee meeting was held on Oct. 4, 2015, at 6 pm central, via Adobe Connect. Present were committee members Alison Wallis, Joyce Watkins, Kevin Connelly, Paul McClintock, and NAP President Mary Randolph, ex officio.

The committee reviewed the charge to make recommendations to the board to: (1) make the online bookstore more user-friendly for the general consumer, (2) put some descriptions on each item so members will know what they are buying, and (3) make recommendations to clean up the format.

Following welcome, the committee reviewed the charge. The plan of work on the three goals was reviewed. Highlights include:

Alison, within the week, will contact staff with certain specific questions from the committee;

Joyce, Kevin, and Alison, within a month, will divide the 4 plus pages of merchandise, each taking 1.5 pages worth of material to revise, then the revisions will be shared between members for further discussion. After these items are reviewed by committee members, remaining items will be addressed in the same manner;

Paul as webmaster will be advised on all technical concerns and he and/or staff will advise on potential costs and feasibility of desired changes;

questions may be asked or recommendations made to the Finance and Educational Resources committees as the committee proceeds; all committee members will share emails on items of concern relative to Goals 1 and 3, with specific action to be determined at a future meeting.

The committee set the next meeting, to be held via Adobe Connect, for November 8, at 6 pm central (7 Eastern and 4 Pacific). Board members are invited to attend and to share concerns in any manner desired.

RETAINING YOUR CREDENTIAL

Every Registered Parliamentarian and Professional Registered Parliamentarian has six years in which to complete certain requirements needed to retain his or her credential. RPs must complete twenty hours of continuing education by attending (or teaching) workshops offered by the NAP at the national, district, association, or unit level, or by the AIP or other organizations. PRPs must complete the professional renewal course (PRC -- either in-person or online -- and earn one-hundred-fifty points in activities such as serving as a parliamentarian, teaching, and working with youth groups. Full instructions for renewing your credential can be found on the NAP’s website at http://www.parliamentarians.org/documents/#MemberResources.

Too many parliamentarians wait until the final year of their six-year period to begin taking classes and reporting their parliamentary activities, and too many end up losing their credentials. Please don’t let this happen to you.

Through our very hard-working Professional Development Committee, the NAP has been offering PRC modules online, so you no longer have to attend your PRC in person if you prefer not to. As Educational Coordinator this biennium, I will work with the educational committees and NAP headquarters to schedules webinars and modules further in advance and to market them more effectively so that they get the enrollment they need. Please help us plan by registering as early as you can.

You don’t need to lose your credential. Start early, plan ahead, and please let me know how I can help you.

Membership Services Cluster

October 13 2015

The Membership Services Cluster is comprised of the following committees:

· Membership Extension and Retention Committee
· International Committee
· Youth Committee

The MERC is comprised of the elected district directors. The International and Youth committees are chaired by M Carling and Jan Strand respectively.

The goal of this cluster is to provide services to NAP members at all levels and in all areas while increasing our membership through strong retention efforts and targeted recruitment. Additionally, the cluster will collaborate to offer quality educational opportunities within our various areas of influence.

The Youth Committee held its initial meeting on September 30th and has begun reviewing its youth partnership agreements and developing its plan of work for the upcoming biennium.

The MERC held its first meeting on October 6th and will meet every other month during the biennium. The directors are setting annual goals both for the committee and for their individual districts over the next year.

The International Committee will meet next month to discuss its short term priorities.

While each committee has its own focus, we are all expected to work together to meet the membership needs of the organization.
