Having looked at mergers and consolidations (used possibly to strengthen the continued existence of two organizations), what if an organization just can't survive and chooses to dissolve? In parliamentary terms, what motion - and what vote - would be required to dissolve an organization?

The answer from Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised 11th edition:

[p.564, ll. 6ff] presents a sample resolution used to dissolve a society ==> "Resolved, That the X Society be dissolved as of March 31, 20__."

Simple enough, but what vote would be needed to pass such a resolution and effect such a dissolution?

"It is, in effect, a motion to rescind the organization's bylaws, and therefore requires for its adoption the same notice and vote as to amend them (see pp.580-82). The required notice must be sent to all members of record."
