INTRODUCTION AND PHILOSOPHY

The Commission is convinced of the need to balance NAP's fiduciary duty to clients to ensure that the parliamentarians the organization certifies by granting credentialed status are competent to serve organizations and individuals needing parliamentary services with the reality that an assessment process that is unnecessarily demanding or rigorous could deter members from attempting or prevent them from completing it, with the unfortunate result that there would be too few credentialed parliamentarians available to serve clients.

Accordingly, in formulating the new credentialing process, the Commission has been guided by these principles:

- Assessment should be focused on what parliamentarians, in fact, need to be able to do in practice to serve clients competently rather than on some theoretical ideal of comprehensive knowledge and ability;
- Candidates should be informed in advance, with as much detail as possible, precisely what they will be expected to know and to be able to do and how it will be assessed;
- The assessment process should be summative so that candidates learn and master all the required knowledge and apply that knowledge in a final assessment;
- Registered Parliamentarian candidates will be examined objectively and must complete a two-part assessment demonstrating an overall knowledge of the performance expectations. Candidates must successfully complete both parts to achieve the Registered Parliamentarian credential; and
- Professional Registered Parliamentarian candidates will be examined objectively and must participate in a meeting simulation that allows candidates to demonstrate overall knowledge of the performance expectations.

REGISTERED PARLIAMENTARIAN CREDENTIALING EXAM

Brief Description

The Registered Parliamentarian Credentialing Exam (RPCE) is administered by the Commission on Credentialing and comprises multiple-choice and performance exams. It is uniformly administered, scored, and evaluated.

The RPCE is administered in a single session with each section of the exam being completed within three hours of the exam start time. The RPCE is available during seven-day examination windows that are determined by the Commission on Credentialing. RPCE applicants must register at least twenty-one days prior to the start of the examination window.

Detailed Description

The RPCE is administered during a one-day period and will be composed of two sections. Section I will consist of one hundred multiple-choice questions derived from the Registered Parliamentarian Performance Expectations. Section I will be automatically scored by the examination platform. Section II will be a performance exam derived from the Registered Parliamentarian Performance Expectations; with scenarios each candidate must complete in writing. Section II will be scored by trained examiners. For candidates to be successful, they must objectively demonstrate core competencies needed to obtain the RP credential and must demonstrate the application of the core knowledge and basic business skills needed by every parliamentarian. Candidates must achieve an 85% on each section of the RPCE to be awarded the credential. Within 60 days of the close of each examination window, candidates will receive notification of their examination results and whether they have attained the RP credential.

A sample of practice questions for both the multiple-choice exam and the performance exam will be available; however, the questions utilized for the actual examination will not be publicly available, nor will each subsequent exam be the same.

The RPCE will be offered during an examination window at regular intervals. The examination window will occur quarterly. This regular interval system will allow the exam materials to be regularly evaluated and improved for future usage. It will also allow the examiners to notice when their services will be needed and the associated deadlines. This continuous improvement approach, utilizing psychometric analysis of examination data collected, will lead to improved examination instruments and examination experiences for the candidates.

The Commission on Credentialing will develop, administer, and analyze the examinations and award the RP credential upon candidates' successful passage of the RPCE. The RPCE will be proctored either in person or using a virtual monitoring system that is approved by the Commission on Credentialing.

STANDARDS FOR REGISTERED PARLIAMENTARIANS

Presently, two levels of credentialing are offered by the National Association of Parliamentarians: Registered Parliamentarian® (RP) and Professional Registered Parliamentarian® (PRP). Credentialing for RPs and PRPs is managed by the NAP Commission on Credentialing.

This material sets the expectations of the Commission on Credentialing for everyone who wishes to become a Registered Parliamentarian.

This section is designed to guide an NAP member who wishes to prepare to become credentialed as a Registered Parliamentarian. Being ready to respond to objective and performance-based assessments with skill in each of the competencies means that a candidate will be successful in earning this credential. The objectives illustrate the sort of abilities expected, and the performance expectations explain in detail what is required to master each competency at the appropriate level of skill.

The Standards for Registered Parliamentarian use the NAP Body of Knowledge as the basis for deciding what skills (competencies) a Registered Parliamentarian needs to have in order to serve as a consultant for associations dealing with common issues and concerns. The standards cover eight domain areas, which include:

- Domain 1: Motions in General and Main Motions
- Domain 2: Subsidiary and Privileged Motions
- Domain 3: Incidental Motions and Motions that Bring a Question Again Before the Assembly
- Domain 4: Organization and Conduct of Meetings
- Domain 5: Voting, Nominations and Elections
- Domain 6: Being a Professional Parliamentarian, Serve as a Professional Parliamentarian in Meetings and Teaching Parliamentary Procedure
- Domain 7: Boards and Committees and Writing and Interpreting Bylaws
- Domain 8: Less Commonly Encountered Rules

The resources to be used in conjunction to prepare to meet these standards include:

- Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised (12th edition), cited as RONR (12th ed.)
- Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised in Brief, (3rd edition), cited as RONRIB (3rd ed.)
- Code of Professional Responsibility for Parliamentarians available at https://www.parliamentarians.org/wp-content/uploads/2020/09/2020-8Code_of_Professional_Responsibility.pdf
- Pathways to Proficiency: What to Say When: Script Writing Made Easy (3rd ed.) (2020, NAP), cited as Script Writing Made Easy

Motions in General

It is essential for a registered parliamentarian to have very detailed knowledge about motions that are commonly used and to have the ability to rapidly access the appropriate information for motions that are not used often. These references provide guidance for a candidate for registered parliamentarian to know all the material that will be required in the performance of his/her work advising clients for ordinary meeting.

Competencies:

- Use main, subsidiary, privileged, incidental motions, and motions that bring a question again before the assembly.
- Use parliamentary terminology and language appropriately.

Performance Expectations

- 1.1 - Explain the purpose of any motion listed in RONR (12th ed.) 6:5, 6:12, 6:17, and 6:26 or RONRIB (3rd ed.) Chapter 14.
- 1.2 - Identify the name(s) of the appropriate motion(s) used for a given purpose, as described in RONR (12th ed.) 6:5, 6:12, 6:17, and 6:26 or RONRIB (3rd ed.) Chapter 14).
- 1.3 - Know and recall the meaning of the classes of motions listed in RONR (12th ed.) 5:2 as explained in RONR (12th ed.) 6:1–3, 6:9, 6:11, 6:13, 6:15–16, 6:23, 6:25, 10:1–2, first sentence of 10:3, 10:4, and 10:52-27.
- 1.4 - Relate the concepts of “secondary motions,” “pending,” “immediately pending,” “taking precedence,” and “yielding” to the order of precedence of motions as explained in RONRIB (3rd ed.) Chapter 12D (pp. 103-106) and RONR (12th ed.) 4:64, 5:1–13, 6:18–22, and 10:31–34.
- 1.5 - Understand and describe the concept of a motion that adheres to other motions as explained in RONR (12th ed.) 10:35.
- 1.6 - Employ Chart I in RONR (12th ed.) t3-t5 to determine the precedence of other subsidiary and privileged motions.
- 1.7 - Know and apply the order of precedence of the ranking motions as given in RONR (12th ed.) t4.
- 1.8 - Employ the standard descriptive characteristics of individual motions and Tables II and IV through VII in the RONR (12th ed.) “t” pages to quickly look up the information they provide, as explained in RONRIB (3rd ed.) Chapter 12 E & F (pp. 106-108) and in RONR (12th ed.) 7:1–4.
- 1.9 - Employ Table III in the RONR (12th ed.) “t” pages to provide advice regarding the proper form for making motions.

Main Motion

The main motion brings business before the assembly. A candidate for registered parliamentarian must know important rules applying to main motions. This is a critical first step in understanding how associations should conduct business in meetings.

Competencies:

- Use main, subsidiary, privileged, incidental motions, and motions that bring a question again before the assembly.
- Serve as a parliamentarian in meetings.

Performance Expectations

- 2.1 - Know and apply the standard descriptive characteristics of main motions found in RONR (12th ed.) 10:8 (excluding #8).
- 2.2 - Identify, when applicable, the prohibitions or limitations on main motions to reaffirm, to refrain, and that contain negative statements under RONR (12th ed.) 10:10–12.
- 2.3 - Research and employ the instructions in RONR (12th ed.) 10:13–24 to assist in the proper or recommended framing of resolutions and orders, or similar long or complicated main motions.
- 2.4 - Understand and apply the rules relating to modification of a main motion by its maker before or after it has been stated by the chair as found in RONR (12th Ed.) 10:30(1–2).
- 2.5 - Explain to beginners, organization members, or the public the meaning of a main motion as described in RONRIB (3rd ed.) Chapter 3A, p. 19, and the five means by which a change may be made in a main motion before the vote on its adoption as outlined in RONR (12th ed.) 10:30(1–5).

Subsidiary and Privileged Motions

The subsidiary and privileged motions are often called the “ranking motions” because a parliamentarian must know which of these motions are in order based on their rank in the hierarchy. These performance expectations provide all the information that a candidate for registered parliamentarian should have at instant readiness to assist organizations quickly, efficiently, and correctly. Although all subsidiary and privileged motions are important, the registered parliamentarian is to focus on the following ranking motions: Amend, Commit/Refer, Postpone Definitely, Limit/Extend Limits of Debate, Previous Question, Recess, and Adjourn.

Competencies:

- Use main, subsidiary, privileged, incidental motions, and motions that bring a question again before the assembly.
- Serve as a parliamentarian in meetings.

Performance Expectations: Amend

- 3.1 - Explain to beginners, organization members, or the public the basic process and rules governing primary amendments to the extent set forth in RONRIB (3rd ed.) Chapter 5.
- 3.2 - Know and apply the rules for the motion Amend in Standard Descriptive Characteristics 3 through 7 in RONR (12th ed.) 12:7(3–7).
- 3.3 - Recognize and know how to advise the chair in the use of and define the proper terms for amendments given in RONR (12th ed.) 12:8–11, and the first sentence of 12:12. including footnotes).
- 3.4 - Understand and explain the prohibition on third degree amendments and the way of accomplishing the same purpose described in RONR (12th ed.) 12:7(6), and second and third sentences of 12:12.
- 3.5 - Understand and apply the rules concerning the use of one motion to offer multiple amendments and governing conforming amendments given in RONR (12th ed.) 12:14-15.
- 3.6 - Apply the rules defining germaneness in RONR (12th ed.) 12:16–21 to amendments that are clearly germane or clearly not germane.
- 3.7 - Apply the rules identifying improper amendments in RONR (12th ed.) 12:22.
- 3.8 - Apply the rule governing amendments to a preamble in RONR (12th ed.) 12:23.
- 3.9 - Explain to chairs, beginners, organization members, or the public the principle concerning amendments that raise the same question of content and effect of which many rules governing different forms of amendment are an application that is described in RONR (12th ed.) 12:25.
- 3.10 - Apply the basic rules governing the different forms of amendment found in RONR (12th ed.) 12:26 and 12:30 (insert or add words); first sentence of 12:31 (insert or add paragraphs); 12:46-47, 12:49, and 12:50 (strike out words); 12:56–62, 12:65–66 (strike out and insert words); 12:69, and 12:70 (substitute).
- 3.11 - Apply the rules concerning so-called “friendly amendments” and cases in which the maker of the main motion “accepts” an amendment stated in RONR (12th ed.) 12:91.
- 3.12 - Explain and employ how the chair states and puts the question and announces the result on amendments as described in RONR (12th ed.) 12:33–40 and with the option of using unanimous consent as described in RONR (12th ed.) 12:91.

- 3.13 - Know and recall the basic nature of and procedure for filling blanks as described in RONR (12th ed.) 12:92–94.
- 3.14 - Understand the cases adapted to filling blanks as described in the last sentence of RONR (12th ed.) 12:93.

Performance Expectations: Commit or Refer

- 3.15 - Understand and describe the difference between the main and subsidiary motions to Commit explained in RONR (12th ed.) 13:6, and 51:33n9.
- 3.16 - Apply the rules relating to adhering motions with reference to Commit as described in RONR (12th ed.) 13:7(2) portion of first sentence through first semi-colon(;) and last sentence, as well as 13:19 except last sentence.
- 3.17 - Know and apply the rules for the motion Commit in Standard Descriptive Characteristics 3 through 7 in RONR (12th ed.) 13:7(3–7).

Performance Expectations: Postpone Definitely

- 3.18 - Understand and describe the difference between the main and subsidiary motions to Postpone Definitely explained in RONR (12th ed.) 14:1 and 14:3.
- 3.19 - Apply the rules relating to adhering motions with reference to Postpone Definitely as described in RONR (12th ed.) 14:4(2) (second to last sentence) and 14:19.
- 3.20 - Know and apply the rules for the motion Postpone Definitely in Standard Descriptive Characteristics 3 through 7 in RONR (12th ed.) 14:4(3–7).
- 3.21 - Apply the limits on the time to which a question can be postponed as described in RONR (12th ed.) 14:5–6.
- 3.22 - Understand and apply the basic concept of using Postpone Definitely to create a special order as explained in RONR (12th ed.) 14:2, 14:13-15, 14:17, and 14:20(d–e).

Performance Expectations: Limit/Extend Limits of Debate

- 3.23 - Understand and describe the basic difference between (1) limiting or extending the number or length of speeches and (2) requiring after a specified length of time or at a certain hour debate is to be closed as explained in RONR (12th ed.) 15:2.
- 3.24 - Understand and define the meaning, in the context of Limit or Extend Limits of Debate, of the terms “order” and “exhausted” described in RONR (12th ed.) 15:3.
- 3.25 - Know and apply the rules for the motion Limit or Extend Limits of Debate in Standard Descriptive Characteristics 3 through 7 in RONR (12th ed.) 15:5(3–7).
- 3.26 - Explain to chairs, beginners, organization members, or the public the circumstances under which Limit or Extend Limits of Debate can apply to debate on one or on a series of motions as described in RONR (12th ed.) 15:5(2) first three sentences, 15:7-8.
- 3.27 - Know and explain how a later motion to Limit or Extend Limits of Debate is in order and can supersede an earlier one as explained in RONR (12th ed.) 15:17.

Performance Expectations: Previous Question

- 3.28 - Understand and interpret the effect of adopting Previous Question, including which motions the subsequent making of which it does and does not preclude, as described in RONR (12th ed.) 16:2.
- 3.29 - Explain to chairs, beginners, organization members, or the public how a motion for the Previous Question can be moved 1) to apply only to the immediately pending question, 2) to apply to all pending questions, or 3) to apply to the immediately pending question and a specified set of a consecutive series of pending questions as described in RONR (12th ed.) 16:5–2 except the third and last sentences; also explain how when one of these alternatives is moved, other alternatives can be moved before a vote is taken, and the sequence in which such votes occur as described in RONR (12th ed.) 16:5(6).

- 3.30 - Know and apply the rules for the motion Previous Question in Standard Descriptive Characteristics 3 through 5 and 7 in RONR (12th ed.) 16:5(3–5, 7).
- 3.31 - Recognize, and know how to advise the chair to deal with, nonstandard or inappropriate attempts to accomplish the effect of adopting the Previous Question described in RONR (12th ed.) 16:6-7.
- 3.32 - Understand and define the meaning, in the context of Previous Question, of the terms “partly executed” and “fully executed” as explained in RONR (12th ed.) 16:5(8)n15.
- 3.33 - Understand and describe the effect on subsequent motions of an unexhausted order for the Previous Question as explained in RONR (12th ed.) 16:18–19.

Performance Expectations: Recess

- 3.34 - Know and describe the difference between Recess and Stand at Ease as described in RONR (12th ed.) 8:2(3–4).
- 3.35 - Understand and explain the meaning of recess given in RONR (12th ed.) 20:1, and the difference between recess and adjourn as described in RONR (12th ed.) 8:7.
- 3.36 - Understand and explain the difference between the main and privileged motions to Recess explained in RONR (12th ed.) 20:2–3.
- 3.37 - Know and apply the rules for the motion Recess in Standard Descriptive Characteristics 3 through 7 in RONR (12th ed.) 20:5(3-7).
- 3.38 - Know and use the rules for declaring and postponing a scheduled recess in RONR (12th ed.) 20:6–7.

Performance Expectations: Adjourn

- 3.39 - Understand and define the meaning of adjourn given in RONR (12th ed.) 21:1.
- 3.40 - Recognize and assess the unique quality that Adjourn may be privileged even when no question is pending as explained in RONR (12th ed.) 21:2.
- 3.41 - Describe the three characteristics that differentiate the main from the privileged motion to Adjourn given in RONR (12th ed.) 21:3&n4 (including the footnote), and the effect when Adjourn is not privileged described in RONR (12th ed.) 21:3, last two sentences.
- 3.42 - Know and apply the rules for the motion Adjourn in Standard Descriptive Characteristics 3 through 7 in RONR (12th ed.) 21:6(3–7).
- 3.43 - Describe what is in order before the chair may declare a directed adjournment, as explained in RONR (12th ed.) 21:10–12.
- 3.44 - Explain how to declare or set aside a scheduled adjournment as explained in RONR (12th ed.) 21:14–15, and 8:9–10.

Incidental Motions

Incidental motions arise out of the consideration of other motions. They are motions that usually must be decided immediately before business can proceed. Although all incidental motions are important, a candidate for registered parliamentarian is to focus on the following ranking motions: Point of Order, Appeal, Suspend the Rules, Parliamentary Inquiry, and Request for Information.

Competencies:

- Use main, subsidiary, privileged, incidental motions, and motions that bring a question again before the assembly.
- Serve as a parliamentarian in meetings.

Performance Expectations: Point of Order

- 4.1 - Know and apply the rules for the motion Point of Order in Standard Descriptive Characteristics 3 through 7 in RONR (12th ed.) 23:2(3–7).
- 4.2 - Describe and employ the basic purpose of, and procedure for handling, a Point of Order, as described in RONR (12th ed.) 23:3–4, and 23:12–17.
- 4.3 - Explain the timeliness requirements of Point of Order as described in RONR (12th ed.) 23:5, and recognize that exceptions exist to this general rule.
- 4.4 - Rapidly research and apply the exceptions to the timeliness requirement for a Point of Order given in RONR (12th ed.) 23:6.
- 4.5 - Understand and summarize how rulings on Points of Order create precedents as explained in RONR (12th ed.) 23:10.
- 4.6 - Explain the precedential nature of a ruling on a Point of Order and how to supersede it, as explained in RONR (12th ed.) 23:10–11.

Performance Expectations: Appeal

- 4.7 - Know and explain the two exceptions to the right to Appeal given in RONR (12th ed.) 24:3(2)(a–b).
- 4.8 - Know and apply the rules for the motion Appeal in Standard Descriptive Characteristics 3 through 7 in RONR (12th ed.) 24:3(3–7), including memorizing the three cases in which an appeal is undebatable in RONR (12th ed.) 24:3(5)(first sentence). Also know the requirement for timeliness of an appeal in RONR (12th ed.) 24:8.
- 4.9 - Understand and explain the distinction between rulings that can be appealed and opinions and judgments that cannot be appealed as described in RONR (12th ed.) 24:5–7, and 24:7n4.
- 4.10 - Recognize and know how to advise the chair on the procedure for handling an appeal as illustrated in RONR (12th ed.) 24:9–13.

Performance Expectations: Suspend the Rules

- 4.11 - Understand and identify the seven categories of rules that cannot be suspended. In RONR (12th ed.) 25:7–13.
- 4.12 - Rapidly research and apply the detailed provisions applying the prohibition on suspending seven categories of rules explained in RONR (12th ed.) 25:7–13.
- 4.13 - Know and apply the rules for the motion Suspend the Rules in Standard Descriptive Characteristics 3 through 7 in RONR (12th ed.) 25:2(3–7) and the differences in the vote required explained in RONR (12th ed.) 25:14–16.

4.14 - Understand and define the purpose and manner of suspending the rules as described in RONR (12th ed.) 25:3–5 and illustrated in RONR (12th ed.) 25:17–20.

Performance Expectations: Parliamentary Inquiry

4.15 - Know and apply the rules for the motion Parliamentary Inquiry in Standard Descriptive Characteristics 3 through 7 in RONR (12th ed.) 33:2(3–7).

4.16 - Understand the purpose and apply the procedure for making and handling a Parliamentary Inquiry as given in RONR (12th ed.) 33:3–5.

Performance Expectations: Request for Information

4.17 - Recognize and know how to advise and assist the chair on preventing members from misusing Request for Information to give information, thus improperly obtaining preference in recognition in order effectively to debate. RONRIB (3rd ed.) p. 95n2.

4.18 - Know and apply the rules in Standard Descriptive Characteristics 3 through 7 in RONR (12th ed.) 33:2(3–7) as they pertain to Request for Information.

4.19 - Understand the purpose and apply the procedure for making and handling a Request for Information as given in RONR (12th ed.) 33:6–10.

Motions that Bring a Question Again Before the Assembly

If the assembly needs to make a different decision than one already made on an issue, these motions are used to accomplish that goal. These motions afford the opportunity to reopen a completed motion, a motion temporarily disposed of, or to change something previously adopted and still in effect. Since many organizations find themselves in a situation where they have either changed their mind or made a decision hastily, a candidate for registered parliamentarian must know how to deal with these motions. Although all these motions are important, a candidate for registered parliamentarian is to focus on Rescind/Amend Something Previously Adopted and Reconsider.

Competencies:

- Use main, subsidiary, privileged, incidental motions, and motions that bring a question again before the assembly.
- Serve as a parliamentarian in meetings.

Performance Expectations: Rescind/Amend Something Previously Adopted

- 5.1 - Understand and define the purpose and effect of Rescind/Amend Something Previously Adopted as explained in RONR (12th ed.) 35:1.
- 5.2 - Know and apply the rules for the motion Rescind/Amend Something Previously Adopted in Standard Descriptive Characteristics 3 through 5 in RONR (12th ed.) 35:2(3–5).
- 5.3 - Rapidly research and apply the rules in Standard Descriptive Characteristics 6 and 7 in RONR (12th ed.) 35:2(6–7).
- 5.4 - Apply the procedure for giving previous notice of and making motions to Rescind or Amend Something Previously Adopted as illustrated in RONR (12th ed.) 35:3, 35:7–12.
- 5.5 - Understand and apply the rules concerning the use of one motion to Amend Something Previously Adopted to offer multiple amendments and governing conforming amendments given in RONR (12th ed.) 35:5, including the rules it references governing whether and how such a motion may be divided in RONR (12th ed.) 10:25, 27:5 and the example in RONR (12th ed.) 57:3.”

Performance Expectations: Reconsider

- 5.6 - Understand and explain the basic purpose and procedure of reconsideration as described in RONRIB (3rd ed.) pp. 58-60 and RONR (12th ed.) 37:1–8, and 37:9(1)(a).
- 5.7 - Understand and explain the procedure to reconsider a main motion when made at a time when it can immediately be taken up as set forth in RONR (12th ed.) 37:14 and as illustrated in RONR (12th ed.) 37:36(a), and 37:37–39.
- 5.8 - Know and describe when Reconsider cannot be applied to a motion as set forth in RONR (12th ed.) 37:9(2)(a-h) and 37:13.
- 5.9 - Understand the circumstances under which Reconsider cannot be taken up at the time it is made and the procedure followed in such a case as explained in RONR (12th ed.) 37:9(1), 37:10(b–c), and 37:15–17, and the illustration in RONR (12th ed.) 37:40–42, and 37:44–45.
- 5.10 - Know and apply the rules for the motion Reconsider in Standard Descriptive Characteristics 3 through 7 in RONR (12th ed.) 37:9(3–7).
- 5.11 - Apply the rules that suspend the effect of a motion sought to be reconsidered when Reconsider is moved at a time when it cannot immediately be taken up in RONR (12th ed.) 37:11-12.

5.12 - Know and apply the rules governing debate both on the motion to Reconsider and after a motion to Reconsider has been adopted as described in RONR (12th ed.) 37:18–23.

Organization and Conduct of Meetings

Including such aspects as establishing the quorum, creating the agenda, and conducting debate, these are the rules that keep meetings fair and on target. There are certain things that must be done in order to prepare for and conduct any type of meeting. A candidate for registered parliamentarian must understand the basics for organizing and conducting meetings.

Competencies:

- Use parliamentary rules to organize the business of meetings.
- Use parliamentary terminology and language appropriately.
- Serve as a parliamentarian in meetings.
- Consult with clients.

Performance Expectations: Quorum

- 6.1 - Explain the basic need for and effect of a quorum requirement described in RONRIB (3rd ed.) pp. 12-13.
- 6.2 - Know and describe the default quorum when membership can be accurately determined as set forth in RONR (12th ed.) 3:3 (last sentence).
- 6.3 - Understand and explain what may be done even in the absence of a quorum as described in RONR (12th ed.) 40:6–10.

Performance Expectations: Standard Order of Business

- 6.4 - Define the meanings of “order of business,” “orders of the day,” and “agenda,” as well as the two meanings of “program,” given in RONR (12th ed.) 41:1–4 (including 41:2n2).
- 6.5 - Know and identify the names and order of the six basic headings in the standard order of business in RONR (12th ed.) 41:5.
- 6.6 - Know and identify in which organizations the standard order of business is used as explained in RONR (12th ed.) , 41:6.
- 6.7 - Be able to prepare, or assist the secretary to prepare, a memorandum of the order of business as explained in RONRIB (3rd ed.) pp. 146-47 and RONR (12th ed.) 41:7.
- 6.8 - Write a script for a presiding officer using the standard order of business, while referencing RONRIB (3rd ed.) Table C (p. 209) and RONR (12th ed.) 41:8–27.
- 6.9 - Know and explain how business may be taken up out of its proper order as explained in RONR (12th ed.) 41:37–39.

Performance Expectations: Orders of the Day

- 6.10 - Explain to chairs, beginners, organization members, or the public the meaning of and basic rules governing general and special orders as set forth in RONR (12th ed.) 14:13-17.

Performance Expectations: Agenda

- 11.11 - Prepare letters of agreement and contracts based on PPPP pp. 18-21.

Performance Expectations: Consult with Client

- 11.12 - Understand and identify the advice about working with clients found on PPPP pp. 4; 11-17..

Performance Expectations: Disciplinary Procedures

- 11.13 - Recognize and know how rapidly to advise a presiding officer to deal with breaches of order in a meeting by members and non-members as described in RONR (12th ed.) 61:1–21.

Performance Expectations: Answer Parliamentary Questions

11.14 - Address parliamentary questions orally in advising a presiding officer as described in RONR (12th ed.) 47:49–55.

Performance Expectations: Parliamentary Terminology

11.15 - Employ standard parliamentary terminology and parliamentary language when applying the material covered in all performance expectations for RPs under all other content areas.

PROFESSIONAL REGISTERED PARLIAMENTARIAN CREDENTIALING EXAM

Brief Description

The Professional Registered Parliamentarian Credentialing Exam (PRPCE) is administered by the Commission on Credentialing, and will assess whether a Registered Parliamentarian can competently serve as a parliamentarian in a meeting simulation. The parliamentarian will be expected to competently demonstrate teaching, presiding, script writing, opinion writing, and serving as a parliamentarian. It is uniformly administered, scored, and evaluated.

The PRPCE is administered over two days, in-person or virtual. The PRPCE is available at least twice a year, once in conjunction with a national event and once in the spring. PRPCE applicants must register at least seventy-five days prior to the start of the examination window.

Detailed Description

The PRPCE will be offered in conjunction with NAP's Biennial Convention, in conjunction with the NAP Training Conference, and at other times upon the approval of the Commission.

The PRPCE is a two-day, either in-person or virtual, simulation of what parliamentarians can expect to see in unusual circumstances and will be based on the Performance Expectations for Professional Registered Parliamentarians. Each simulation should consist of no more than six candidates. Prior to the simulation, candidates will receive materials that they will need to adequately prepare for a client meeting, including governing documents.

Candidates will also receive instructions to write the meeting script, develop a workshop to be presented to the meeting attendees, and draft an opinion that may be utilized during the business session.

On the first day of the simulation, each candidate will present a thirty (30) minute presentation to the examiners and other candidates on the assigned topic. Additionally, candidates will take part in a pre-business session meeting that will consist of examiners asking questions about the script, mention potential issues that could come up during the business session, ask for guidance on how to handle certain things that could occur, etc. The candidates will be given time to draft additional scripts that may be needed in the business session.

On the second day of the simulation, the business session will convene. Each candidate will be both serve as a presiding officer and as a parliamentarian. This rotation will be announced during breaks in the meeting agenda. Candidates will be expected to handle complex issues that could come up during a business meeting. Situations that were addressed on the previous day could be raised, and candidates may be allowed to refer to a script that they or their parliamentarian have prepared. Additional and unknown situations may also occur that the candidate and their parliamentarian will be expected to work through. There may be multiple business sessions that take part to ensure that each candidate is able to serve as a parliamentarian and a presiding officer adequately.

Upon the conclusion of the second day, candidates will be dismissed. If the examiners need additional information from a candidate, a follow-up assignment may be requested from the candidate prior to the announcement of the outcome; however, such a follow-up assignment is not a requirement.

STANDARDS FOR PROFESSIONAL REGISTERED PARLIAMENTARIANS

Introduction

Presently, two levels of credentialing are offered by the National Association of Parliamentarians: Registered Parliamentarian® (RP) and Professional Registered Parliamentarian® (PRP). Credentialing for RPs and PRPs is managed by the NAP Commission on Credentialing.

This material sets the expectations of the Commission on Credentialing for everyone who wishes to become a Professional Registered Parliamentarian. Before becoming a Professional Registered Parliamentarian, the candidate must have successfully attained the RP credential.

This section is designed to guide an NAP member who wishes to prepare to become credentialed as a Professional Registered Parliamentarian. Being ready to respond in a performance-based assessment with skill in each of the competencies means that a candidate will be successful in earning this credential. The objectives illustrate the sort of abilities expected, and the performance expectations explain in detail what is required to master each competency at the appropriate level of skill.

The Standards for Professional Registered Parliamentarian use the NAP Body of Knowledge as the basis for deciding what skills (competencies) a Professional Registered Parliamentarian needs to have in order to serve as a consultant for associations dealing with common issues and concerns. The standards cover eight domain areas, which include:

- Domain 1: Motions and Meeting-Related Procedures
- Domain 2: Governing Documents
- Domain 3: Serving as Parliamentarian in Meetings and Conventions
- Domain 4: Teaching
- Domain 5: Business and Ethics
- Domain 6: Governance
- Domain 7: Consulting Skills
- Domain 8: Nominations, Elections, and Voting

The resources to be used in conjunction to prepare to meet these standards include:

- Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised (12th edition), cited as RONR (12th ed.)
- Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised in Brief, (3rd edition), cited as RONRIB (3rd ed.)

Comprehensive Content

The Standards for Professional Registered Parliamentarian covers 7 content areas:

- Advanced Use of Motions—so that the parliamentarian will know how to handle more complex issues in the use of motions that were covered in the Registered Parliamentarian credentialing process. These motions include certain main motions, subsidiary motions, privileged motions, incidental motions, and motions that bring a question again before the assembly.
- Less Commonly Used Motions—so that the parliamentarian will know important rules applying to motions that don't often occur in regular meetings since that knowledge is critical in understanding how associations and conventions should conduct business.
- Advising or Presiding at a Meeting or Convention—so that the parliamentarian will know how to effectively advise a presiding officer or members, or in some cases actually serve as the presiding officer, during regular meetings or conventions.
- Governing Documents and Script Writing—so that the parliamentarian will know how to write, read, and understand all the rules stated in bylaws and other forms of governing documents. In addition, the parliamentarian will know how to effectively write and prepare accurate scripts to help guide the presiding officer through a meeting or convention.
- Advanced Issues with Boards and Committees; Mass Meetings and Merger or Dissolution of Societies—so that the parliamentarian will be able to know how to address issues regarding boards, committees, and how business is conducted in those deliberative assemblies. Furthermore, the parliamentarian should know how to guide members through a mass meeting, merger, or dissolution of an organization.
- Advanced Issues with Nominations, Voting, and Elections—so that the parliamentarian will know how to handle complex issues involving nominations, voting, and elections.
- Professional Parliamentarian—so that the parliamentarian will know the skills and perform the duties expected of a professional and ethical individual with expertise who is paid to advise others.

Competencies and Performance Expectations

Each content area has competencies and performance expectations that can be used to guide the development of courses and study material to prepare for assessment to become a Professional Registered Parliamentarian. The competencies are based upon areas of the NAP Body of Knowledge that are important for members and leaders to know, since a PRP must have advanced knowledge of parliamentary procedure to assist in all types of meetings ranging from small regular meetings to large conventions. The performance expectations provide a framework of what the Professional Registered Parliamentarian should be able to know and do while serving as an PRP.

Assessment Parameters

The competencies for preparing to become and retain one's status as a Professional Registered Parliamentarian cover more than what is in RONR (12th ed.). But with respect to RONR (12th ed.), the assessments included in these standards are based on the following assumptions:

1. The Professional Registered Parliamentarian has achieved all of the competencies required for the Registered Parliamentarian credential.
2. Professional Registered Parliamentarians should be able to understand and apply all that is in RONR (12th ed.) when they have it available for reference. This should be sufficient with respect to that advice that is provided outside of meetings, such as helping to draft a bylaws amendment or revision.
3. In a meeting or convention, Professional Registered Parliamentarians should be able rapidly to find, refer to, understand, and apply any rule needed to address a situation that would be likely to come up and need immediate resolution.
4. Professional Registered Parliamentarians should know and be able to apply parliamentary rules that are relevant in an ordinary meeting or convention under usual circumstances without having to refer to RONR (12th ed.).

Advanced Use of Motions

The candidate for professional registered parliamentarian should already be skilled in the use of those motions that are a regular part of most meetings. But there are times when special issues arise that may require the use of less commonly used motions. Or the PRP may need to make a distinction between the rules that apply to two different but similar motions. Knowing these rules or how to find them quickly is an important skill for the PRP. In addition, the PRP may choose to teach classes or workshops where s/he needs to be able to explain these motions and their correct usages.

Competencies:

- Use main, subsidiary, privileged, incidental motions, and motions that bring a question again before the assembly.
- Use parliamentary terminology and language appropriately.
- Teach parliamentary procedure.

Performance Expectations: Main Motions

- 1.1 - Use the distinctions described in RONR (12th ed.) 10:2–5, 10:7, 13:6, 14:3, 15:4, 30:2, and 46:30, third sentence (beginning with “Where there is no determination . . .”) to determine whether particular main motions are original or incidental main motions.
- 1.2 - Understand what differences in the rules depend on whether a motion is an original or an incidental main motion, as set forth in RONR (12th ed.) 10:6 and apply them in practice.
- 1.3 - Understand and apply the rules that determine whether a motion to Adopt is an original or an incidental main motion and how it may be amended as described in RONR (12th ed.) 10:52–53 and 56:15(a).
- 1.4 - Understand and apply the rules governing the incidental main motion to Ratify, including those distinguishing what may and what may not be ratified as set forth in RONR (12th ed.) 10:54–57. (Accurately apply these rules in the context of invalid electronic meetings, such that actions taken by individuals in reliance on decisions in such meetings may be ratified (10:54, third bullet point), but the decisions themselves, when made at an electronic meeting not authorized in the bylaws (when that is required), may not be ratified so as to have ongoing future effect unless re-enacted during a valid meeting.)

Performance Expectations: Amend

- 1.5 - Explain to beginners, organization members, or the public the basic process and rules governing secondary amendments to the extent set forth in RONR (12th ed.) CD-ROM “Understanding Secondary Amendments.”
- 1.6 - Apply the rules limiting changes in an adopted amendment found in RONR (12th ed.) 12:27–29 (insert or add words), 12:31 (insert or add paragraphs), 12:48 (strike out words), 12:52 (strike out paragraphs), 12:63–64 (strike out and insert words), 12:74–75 (substitute).
- 1.7 - Apply the rules governing secondary amendments to primary amendments to strike out paragraphs as described in RONR (12th ed.) 12:51, and to substitute: 12:70 except the first two sentences, (i.e., beginning with the third sentence “But for purposes of secondary amendment . . .”), and 12:71–73.
- 1.8 - Advise and train chairs how to conduct consideration of amendments to strike out paragraphs as described in RONR (12th ed.) 12:51–52 and of amendments to substitute as described in 12:71, 12:73 and illustrated in 12:82–12:90.
- 1.9 - Apply the rules governing substitutes when a question is being considered seriatim and with relation to committees as described in RONR (12th ed.) 12:76–78.

- 1.10 - Advise regarding the process for each of the three methods of creating a blank given in RONR (12th ed.)12:95.
- 1.11 - Apply the rules governing filling blanks given as described in RONR (12th ed.) 12:96-106 and 46:33.
- 1.12 - Understand and apply the rules under which amendments that would not otherwise be in order because previously considered are nevertheless in order after a matter referred to a committee is reported back, given in RONR (12th ed.) 13:20.
- 1.13 - When amendments are debatably germane or not germane, a) describe the rationales for both conclusions, and b) accurately advise chairs of the option to submit the question to the assembly for decision as described in RONR (12th ed.) 23:18–21, including 23:21n3, 23:2(1)(last paragraph), 23:2(5).

- 6.12 - Know the rule under which only the voting body itself may judge election disputes given on RONR (12th ed.) 46:50.

The Professional Registered Parliamentarian

Above all, the professional registered parliamentarian is a professional who is expected to uphold the highest standard of ethics and skill when serving as a parliamentarian, professional presider, or teacher. The candidate for professional registered parliamentarian is expected to have the skills that demonstrate the desirability of using parliamentary procedure to ensure that clients experience the value of democratic process.

Competencies:

- Use parliamentary terminology and language appropriately.
- Teach parliamentary procedure.
- Act professionally and ethically.

Performance Expectations: Teaching Parliamentary Procedure

- 7.1 - Be able to construct effective learning activities as described in PPPP pp. 57-60 and performance assessment tasks using instructional questions including the types described in PPPP pp. 60-62.
- 7.2 - Demonstrate skill and knowledge in preparing and teaching public workshops in parliamentary basics.
- 7.3 - Demonstrate knowledge and experience in teaching parliamentary procedure courses or workshops to prepare member parliamentarians to become credentialed.

Performance Expectations: Ethics

- 7.4 - Apply the items in the Code of Professional Responsibility for Parliamentarians to alleged violations which are subject to discipline (2.1 through 4.7) available at https://www.parliamentarians.org/wp-content/uploads/2020/09/2020-8Code_of_Professional_Responsibility.pdf.

Performance Expectations: Parliamentary Terminology

- 7.5 - Employ standard parliamentary terminology and parliamentary language when applying the material covered in all performance expectations for PRPs under all other content areas.
- 7.6 - Teach presiding officers, committee chairs presenting reports, and members the use of the appropriate language for making and handling motions that are likely to be used by clients in the particular organizations to which they belong, in accordance with RONR (12th ed.).

RENEWING PARLIAMENTARY CREDENTIALS

A continuing education model is established for the renewal of all credentialing programs.

Educational events that are sponsored by the National Association of Parliamentarians automatically receive continuing education units; however, there are other entities, including NAP's association and units, that may want to offer parliamentary education and may request that attendees receive continuing education units that qualify for NAP renewals.

There are minimum standards that a third-party entity must meet to be eligible for approval. Those standards are partly based on the expectation that the shared content is consistent with NAP's Body of Knowledge and the Commission on Credentialing policies.

For participants to receive continuing education credits (CEU), the following criteria must be met:

- a. Participation in a NAP national educational event; or
- b. Participation in an educational event approved to award continuing educational credit by the Commission on Credentialing. If an outside entity requests an educational event to qualify for CEUs, the Commission may require the ability to audit the educational offering.
- c. Credits will not be awarded for participation in identical educational events.

Continuing education credits are awarded on the following timing scale:

- a. 0-29 minutes – 0 credit
- b. 30-49 minutes – 0.5 credits
- c. 50-74 minutes – 1 credit
- d. 75-89 minutes – 1.5 credits
- e. 90-120 minutes – 2 credits

The Commission may approve an alternative amount of educational content in unique circumstances.

Certain guidelines must be considered when calculating credits and the following will not be counted for credit:

- Breaks (meal, snack, or coffee breaks);
- Opening and closing remarks;
- Business meetings; or
- Any other time that is not dedicated to educational content

Only actual attendance earns credit.

Additionally, the presentation must be clearly identified on the agenda to qualify for professional responsibility credit. Subjects that qualify for professional responsibility credit include ethics, professionalism, malpractice prevention, and items related to the Joint Code of Professional Responsibility.

Instructor policies

Instructors of approved educational content are entitled to receive the number of credits based on the timing scale times three. For example, an instructor who teaches a one-credit educational event is entitled to receive three credits for renewal. The Commission prefers that all instructors maintain an active NAP credential; however, non-credentialed instructors may be approved but any credentials, education, or experience must be appropriate for the material being offered.

CEU Reporting

Members will not need to report CEUs that they received from attending a national NAP event. The Commission may require, at national events, a check-in system be implemented to track attendance properly.

Entities, including NAP units and associations, must report the names, member ID numbers, and number of credits a participant received to the Commission.

Registered Parliamentarian Renewal Policy

A Registered Parliamentarian must complete ten (10) hours of continuing education credits, including one (1) hour of Professional Responsibility, every two years to qualify for renewal and submit a certification statement in the last year of the renewal period.

Professional Registered Parliamentarian Renewal Policy

A Professional Registered Parliamentarian must complete fifteen (15) hours of continuing education credits, including two (2) hours of Professional Responsibility, every two years to qualify for renewal and submit a certification statement in the last year of the renewal period.

Proviso

The current renewal process, the Professional Renewal Certification, will remain an option to renew for current Professional Registered Parliamentarians until December 31, 2025.

The CEU renewal process will be effective January 1, 2024; however, any educational content presented after September 1, 2023, may be submitted for CEUs. Any CEUs earned after September 1, 2023, may be submitted for the 2024-25 reporting period.
